2. General Conditions

Introduction

Union for International Cancer Control \(UICC\) is dedicated to taking the lead in convening, capacity building and advocacy initiatives that unite and support the cancer community to reduce the global cancer burden, promote greater equity, and ensure cancer control continues to be a priority in the world health and development agenda. Founded in 1933 and based in Geneva, Switzerland, UICC is the largest and oldest international cancer organisation.

With over 1,200 members in 172 countries, UICC represents the world's major cancer societies, ministries of health and patient groups and includes influential policy makers, researchers and experts in cancer prevention and control. UICC also boasts more than 50 strategic partners. UICC Fellowships programmes have been running for almost 60 years and have provided over 4,100 cancer professionals from countries around the world the opportunity to learn new skills in cancer control that they can implement in their institutions upon their return home. For more information about UICC fellowships, please visit <http://www.uicc.org/capacity-building/grants/fellowships>.

The Yamagiwa Yoshida Memorial International Cancer \(YY\) Study Grants programme was launched in 1975 by the Japan National Committee for UICC, who has been a full UICC member since 1948. For over four decades, the YY Study Grants has provided over 500 established cancer professionals the opportunity to initiate or pursue research projects with international collaborators with whom they can exchange knowledge, skills and techniques. The YY Study Grants consist of training of postdoctoral cancer researchers through three-month international collaborative projects. The annual YY Study Grant call opens each year in Autumn, however as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic and its impact on international travel and global health, the 2021 call was cancelled.

The 2022 call will open on Thursday, 1 September 2022 and will close at midnight CET on Wednesday, 30 November 2022.

The YY Study Grants is one of three programmes that make up the UICC fellowship portfolio in 2022, which includes the Technical Fellowships, with its sub-programme translated into French for Francophone Africa, Bourses pour l'Afrique Francophone and the Virtual Fellowships programme that was launched in response to the coronavirus pandemic, and is an online alternative to in-person visits allowing cancer professionals from UICC member organisations to obtain expert learning and guidance in cancer control through one-to-one video calls with experts in English, French or Spanish. The Technical Fellowships and Virtual Fellowships programmes are open between the end of January and December.

Objectives of the YY Study Grants

The Yamagiwa-Yoshida International Memorial \(YY\) Study Grant programme aims specifically at supporting established cancer investigators from any country to:

- initiate, set up or pursue bilateral cancer research projects with collaborating investigators abroad
- exchange complementary research skills and materials
- receive training in advanced experimental cancer research methods and techniques

Call for proposals

The YY Study Grant call opens on Thursday, 1 September and will close at midnight CET on Wednesday, 30 November 2022, with notification of results to candidates in January 2023. The 2022 YY Study Grant visits should therefore be planned to take place in 2023.

Number of YY Study Grants available

A minimum of six YY Study Grants are available.

Maximum value of YY Study Grants

Up to a maximum of US$ 10,000 per Study Grant is available.

Selection Criteria and Application Review

Basic, translational, implementation, public health, clinical or applied research projects in the field of cancer are encouraged.

In 2022, in view of the global pandemic and its continuing impact, priority will be given to research applications on the topic of "COVID-19 and Cancer".

All applications undergo a preliminary review for eligibility and completeness. Any application that is incomplete or does not comply with the eligibility criteria outlined below will not be considered by the Selection Committee and will be automatically rejected.

Eligible applications will be evaluated by an independent Selection Committee according to a peer-review process, and final decisions will be made by the Programme Chair based on the Committee's evaluations and the budget available.

The following criteria will be considered by the Selection Committee when evaluating the proposals:

1. Significance and quality of the proposed project
2. Scientific background and experience of the candidate
3. Anticipated impact on research activities in the home country upon return
4. Anticipated impact on career path and professional development of candidate
5. Suitability and quality of host institute
6. Appropriate duration of the fellowship period

The Selection Committee's evaluations are confidential and cannot be divulged to applicants. The funding decisions are final and cannot be appealed.

Target candidates

The target candidates of the YY Study Grants are established cancer researchers, including clinicians, epidemiologists, and/or public health professionals.

Eligibility criteria

- YY Study Grants are not aimed at supporting clinical training, and applications that are clinical observerships are not eligible; please refer to the Technical Fellowships programme for such projects.
- Applications that include requests for basic training, courses, lectures, meetings, conferences, congresses, etc. are not eligible.
- Applicants must have been awarded their PhD (or equivalent) at least two years prior to the publication date of the call for proposals, i.e. 1 September 2022. First-professional degrees will not be considered in themselves as PhD-equivalent, even if recipients carry the title "Doctor".
- Applicants may be of any nationality and may reside in any country in the world at the time of the application, provided it is different from the country of the host organisation.
- Applications should ideally be for a visit of a minimum period of three consecutive months. Shorter durations should be fully justified and have a corresponding reduced requested award amount, and candidates applying for a visit of two months or less should apply for a Technical Fellowship instead.
- Applicants must have track record of publications in cancer research (basic, clinical or public health research) in peer reviewed scientific journals.

- To permit effective communication at the host institute, applicants and host supervisors must have adequate fluency in a common language.
- Applicants attached to commercial entities or have associations with the tobacco and alcohol industries are not eligible to apply.
- Only one UICC fellowship (including Technical Fellowships and YY Study Grants) can be awarded during the same calendar year.
- Applicants who have already obtained a UICC fellowship in the past may apply for further UICC awards only if they are a member of the Association of UICC Fellows and at least one year has passed since the start date of their previous fellowship visit.

Host supervisors and institutions

It is the responsibility of applicants to identify a suitable host supervisor, to contact them and obtain their agreement to host them for three months.

For examples of host institutions, applicants are encouraged to visit the YY Study Grants as well as the Technical Fellowships websites, where there is a list of the previous years' awardees and the institutions they visited. In addition, applicants should look at the Map of UICC member organisations for potential hosts, where they can search by country or discipline.

The host supervisor should prepare a one-page resume of their project-related activities and publications and a letter inviting the applicant to visit them for their YY Study Grant. They should send these two documents to the applicant for them to upload as part of their online application. The applicant should also invite the home and host supervisors via the SmartSimple platform to register and submit online host supervisor forms (see p10 for more details).

Fellowship Conditions

As UICC Fellowships are intended to support the development of human resources for cancer in the home institution and country of the Fellow, UICC Fellows, including those awarded a YY Study Grant are expected to return to their home institutes/country at the end of the fellowship period.

Fellowships cannot be granted to candidates who are already physically present at the proposed host institute whilst their applications are under consideration i.e. the period between the closing date for applications and receipt of the countersigned Letter of Award by UICC.

Fellowships are granted subject to adequate funds being available.

The original duration of the YY Study Grant cannot be prolonged, or run concurrently with other awards, even those funded by other agencies. The visit can however be extended by a maximum of two months subject to the written approval of home and host supervisors, however, no additional funds will be made available by UICC.

Fellowships may not be financially supplemented by agencies other than the home or host institutes, or the Fellows themselves. Should return of the Fellow to their home country be delayed for more than six months and without prior approval from UICC, 50 percent of the Study Grant must be reimbursed to UICC.

Fellowship visits should take place in one single visit (i.e., one three month visit for YY study grants – not over a series of shorter visits).

Fellowships that are terminated prematurely must be notified promptly to UICC and appropriate funds relative to the time remaining for the YY Study Grant be reimbursed.

The UICC requires an end-of-project report in English within one month after the end of the fellowship visit, in addition to the completion of a post one-year online survey.

YY Study Grant Awards

The YY Study Grant awards are based on candidates' estimates for travel and living costs, published fares and are only intended to be a contribution, and are not intended to completely cover all travel, or normal salary or income levels. They are for the initial travel from home to host countries but do not include internal travel within the home and/or host countries. Costs for visa, passports, airport taxes etc. are the responsibility of the Fellows.

The awards do not cover medical care, insurance, or taxes; none of which UICC or the Japanese National Committee are liable for. They also do not provide support for accompanying dependents.

End of project reports

Within one month of the end of the project, a report describing the work undertaken and the results achieved must be submitted to the UICC, using the template provided. To enhance the presentation of the report, high-resolution photos of the Fellow at the host institution, preferably with their host supervisor should be included. This report must be approved and the performance during the fellowship evaluated by the host supervisor.

Failure to comply with the completion of an end of project report may result in the request for the return of UICC funds. Both home and host supervisors will be notified should this occur.

Post one-year survey

Approximately one year after completion of the YY Study Grant and the return of the applicant to her/his home institute/hospital an online survey will be sent to the Fellow to complete to provide longer term feedback on the potential outcomes and impact of the fellowship.

Association of UICC Fellows (AUF)

Upon successful completion of a YY Study Grant, i.e. submission of the endorsed end-of-project report to UICC, Fellows are invited to join the Association of UICC Fellows (AUF). Life-time membership carries a subscription fee of US$ 50 and members receive a certificate pdf. Only Members of AUF are eligible to submit a further application for a UICC fellowship or YY Study Grant. New members who work in developing countries or in Eastern Europe may benefit from a one-year complimentary subscription to the UICC International Journal of Cancer, a generous offer made by its Publishers, Wiley & Son Inc., New York.
